

MEXICAN TOP FORMULÆ FACT BOOK

1996-2002

by Jimmy Piget

published on www.gdecarli.it with kind permission

This is perhaps the first register built up (circa 90 %) from web searches. Here in Europe, we are told very few on Mexican series, teams and drivers (but the tiny Autosport results — my 10 % left). How many people, hearing that Mario Domínguez had won the CART Surfers Paradise race, reacted this way : Mario Who ? Here's the answer.

This work is displayed more or less the Formula One Register * does in the Black Books by Paul Sheldon et al. The main differences between these and this are that I also used italics to point the non appearing entries / drivers, and that I registered the race leaders (when available).

Sources often differ on grid positions & best lap achieved, hence in the point standing charts. When it occurred, I had chosen the one which provides complete practice times, considering it as a stronger source. Then I corrected the point standing charts according to the given system.

As I always do, I must inform everybody that there is no copyright on this record, providing that my name is acknowledged for it if used. I wish you will pardon my poor English and that you will enjoy this record.

La fórmula 3000 mexicana

Created in 1996, aiming to replace the Mexican formula 2, it not quite did and lasted only 2 seasons before letting place to the Indy Lights Panamericana.

The cars used were the Lola T96/70 built on international F 3000 patterns, and were powered by a 3,500 cc V6 Chrysler (which engine was not allowed to be modified) running on commercial petrol.

Never the field was plentiful nor did it attract foreign contenders but two. Despite some nice hot-shoes (Domínguez, Higgins, Morales, Plata), it seems that the main fame achieved by this series was that 4 brothers (the Goeters) started in the same grids during 1997. Fair to say that none other formula race ever get to this degree of family record.

La Fórmula de las Américas (Indy Lights Panamericana)

Created to improve the Mexican racing scene and, further, the Latin-American one, this series started in 1998, replacing both the Mexican formulae 2 and 3000.

Actually it was the only series in this part of the world which was faster than F3 (Mexican and Sud-Am). Its goal was to get its best drivers and teams to graduate to such North American series as CART or IRL — a few did, but more went to the genuine Indy Lights, Formula Atlantic or the Skip Barber series.

The cars used were the Lola T93-96/20 bought from the Indy Lights series when being replaced by the T97/20. These cars belonged to the ILP organization (headed by Filiberto Jiménez) and were rented complete with engine to the teams for the season. All were fitted with Firestone slick tyres and powered by a 5,800 cc V8 Chevrolet (which engine was not allowed to be modified) running on commercial petrol. Power increased from 420 hp in 1998 to 490 hp in 2001.

The successive fields were fine, with drivers coming from Brazil, Argentina, Costa Rica, Ecuador, Canada & USA to cross swords with the Mexican ones. But in spite of such racers as Berg, Bernardes, Cané, Collado, Díaz, Fartuszek, McLeod, Negri, and local legends Jiménez, Martínez, Morales and Plata, the whole series belonged to Argentinian Waldemar Coronas who wins 15 out of 28 rounds in the 4 years of its existence.

the Champ Car Formula 6000

The Indy Lights Panamericana slowly decreased in its 4 years of existence : the 2001 fields felt to only a dozen of entrants, this mainly due to a lack of sponsors.

When the Indy Lights US series was cancelled after the 2001 season, Filiberto Jiménez thought he could see a new low cost and high level formula, mixing these second-hand cars (4.2 V6 Lola-Buick T97/20) with the ageing 5.8 V8 Lola-Chevrolet T93-96/20 from Mexico. A tyre contract was signed with Dayton and an ambitious calendar was scheduled, with races in Canada, Eastern USA and Mexico, providing rounds for 3 national and one international championships ! Why this « new » formula was called « 6000 » is not known.

But the writing was on the wall when only 4 cars came and started the first event. With no new entry for the further rounds, Canadian and American organizers cancelled their races, soon followed by the Mexican Winter ones. It was vainly intended to resume in 2003. Sic transit.
